

No Guts No Glory

You know in your heart what you'd like to accomplish. You're always thinking about it. It bugs you all the time. Just the thought of doing it makes your skin tingle. The thought of finally making that dream a reality makes you feel alive, excited, pumped up with a terrific feeling of anticipation.

But something is holding you back. What if you go for it and you fail? How could you live with yourself? What would others think? Fear of failure holds most people back from going after their dreams. Every day you hesitate, the fear grows stronger.

The fear is just a smokescreen! I dare you to act in spite of your fears. You'll be so glad you did. Regardless of the results, you will feel so proud of yourself! And even if you do fail (which only means you need to try a different approach), others will look up to you for having the guts to act with courage.

Go for it! Just going for it will put you in the top 5% of the population. Why? Because 95% of the people out there are afraid to pursue their dreams.

The one quality that separates the most successful people from the least is initiative. Initiative means taking responsibility and taking action when you see something needs to be done. It means moving quickly and decisively.

Initiative means taking risks, regularly moving out of the comfort zone, doing things the average person is not willing to do. You can do it. You have it in you. You really do. I know. I know because I'm an average person that was able to accomplish some amazing things only because I was willing to constantly dive headfirst out of my comfort zone.

Believe me, when you fully commit to your dream and start acting boldly in its pursuit, the world will conspire to help your dreams become a reality.

Do you have the guts to go for it? If you're reading this, I believe you do. Just go for it!

Put it into action:

Imagine how dreadful your life will be if you don't go for your dream... Imagine what an adventure your life will be if you dedicate it to the pursuit of your dreams....When your grandchildren ask you what you did with your life, will you tell them you played it safe or will you enthrall them with the stories of your adventures? Find a coach or mentor who will help you make your life magnificent.
